Walsh Bros. is an employee and family owned corporation with deep roots in the state's history. The company, which is celebrating its 80th anniversary in 1999, was founded seven years after Arizona achieved statehood by three enterprising brothers from Philadelphia as a small typewriter shop. In 1935, Walsh Bros. opened offices in Tucson. Four years later, the company expanded into office furniture. In 1942, Walsh Bros. became an authorized Steelcase office furniture dealer. Today, Walsh Bros. is a full-service office furnishings, design and quality-oriented dealership, representing a wide variety of well-known manufacturers including Kimball, Vecta, Metropolitan, Hon, Krueger and United. Walsh Bros. specializes in Steelcase, the world leader in the office furnishings industry. In addition, the company has separate divisions to assist clients with interior design, filing systems, furniture services and records storage. The company's three warehouse furniture showrooms in Phoenix, Mesa and Tucson feature the state's largest in-stock inventory of new and used office furniture for purchase, rental or lease. Walsh Bros. is committed to fulfilling customers' needs through knowledge, experience, honesty, integrity, superior service and value. Arthur Andersen has recognized Walsh Bros. for distinguished achievement with an Enterprise Award for Best Business Practices in the area of customer satisfaction. Over the past four years, Walsh Bros. has experienced solid growth, and the company expects continued growth in 1999.
